WIRELESS FROM STEAMER HAMBURG

Former President Pulls Weights and Says He Enjoys Trip.

(Special from United Press.)
(From the United Press Correspondent on board the Steamer Hamburg, by Marconi wireless to Wood's Point and Saco, Me., March 24.)
"We are now 24 miles east of Sandy Hook with smooth sea and pleasant weather. Former President Roosevelt retired early last night, being fatigued with the stirring events of the day. He was up at a very early hour this morning and went at once to the gymnasium where he and son son Kernit practiced a while with the weights and the medicine ball. He then retired to his suite and had a bath and came to breakfast at the captain's table. He had a fine appetite and expressed himself as well pleased with his voyage. He will inspect the engine rooms of the ship later in the day."

HOPE TO AROUSE INTEREST OF WOMEN

The first of a series of meetings to aid in the fight against tuberculosis will be held in the Council chamber, at City Hall, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of the Fairfield County Anti-Tuberculosis Society, and George W. Jackson, the president, will occupy the chair. The speakers will be Dr. F. W. Phelps, Dr. W. H. Donaldson of Fairfield, Mayor Henry Lee and President George E. Ober of the Board of Health. Miss Mary Fineman, nurse at the dispensary in the Police and Charities building, will explain the workings of that institution. All of the church organizations and charitable societies have been notified. The idea of the gathering is to arouse the interest of women in the movement to stamp out tuberculosis. The greatest results are expected from work in the homes of the city and the active co-operation of the women is necessary.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FIRST CHURCH

The annual meeting of the society of the First Congregational church was held in the chapel of the church last night. A supper prepared by the Ladies' Benevolent organization was enjoyed. The report of the treasurer, Robert E. Wheeler, was extremely satisfactory. A balance of $129.45 remains in the treasury. The membership was reported to be 395. Richard Demorest spoke for the Men's Club. The officers of the Missionary societies and the King's Messengers made gratifying reports.

The election resulted as follows: Clerk, Hester; Treasurer, Robert E. Wheeler; Auditor, Louis B. Sammis; Superintendent of the Sunday school, Dr. Arthur W. Phelps; Standing committee, Herbert Birdseye, Frank A. Riley, Arthur M. Hunter, Robert E. Wheeler. In addition to the deacons in the church.

DETERMINED TO WED JAPANESE

But Sentiment in California Forces Miss Emery East for Ceremony.

(Special from United Press.)
Corte Madero, California, March 24.—When restrained by public opinion and the arguments of her friends, Helen Emery, daughter of an Arch-Deacon of the Episcopal Church and her mother are preparing to leave for the east where she will wed Gunther Aoki, who claims to be a son of the late Japanese General Ooki. Because of the agitation against the wedding it has been deemed advisable not to have it solemnized in this section. The Arch-Deacon is broken hearted but admits that he cannot sway either his daughter or his wife. The latter declares that the marriage will be all right as "Christianity teaches that all souls are white." Charles Emery, brother of Helen, in answer to a letter from his sister asking him to approve the wedding wrote his mother as follows: "Dear Mother—You know how I detest a negro. Better not." If the marriage takes place it will add to the intense feeling against the Japanese on the coast. Friends of Aoki are urging him to break off the engagement on the ground that it will give the residents of California additional arguments to show why anti-Japanese legislation should be passed.

ADVANTAGE OF "NEW" ANTIQUE

While we would not in any way minimize the value of genuine antique furniture, we want to emphasize the superior construction of our antique reproduction pieces. Modern cabinet-making and constructive methods, modern machinery, and up to date workmanship, enable us to offer accurate reproductions of the antique reproduction pieces that possess all the wearing qualities and satisfying substantiality of the new, with the art value and symmetrical proportions of the genuine antique. Added to this, every piece is priced at its actual value. No fictitious high profit-bearing sentiment is added for price swelling purposes. You get exactly what you pay for—nothing more, nothing less.

Our prices include all reproductions of pieces of the earlier period 1. e. Sheraton, Hepplewhite, Chippendale, Adams, Empire, Elizabethan and others too numerous to mention. Come in at your convenience and look them over. John F. Fay, 239 and 241 Fairfield avenue.

Deaths and Funerals.

The funeral of Ann, widow of Matthew Fitzpatrick, was largely attended from her late residence, 135 Wood avenue, at 8:30 this morning and a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. John J. Kennedy at 9. The floral offerings were numerous and exceedingly handsome. The pall bearers were John Graham, Matthew Brown, John Hayes, John Keating, Frank Graham and James Graham. Interment was in St. Michael's cemetery.

The funeral of Catherine Quigley, wife of Louis J. Barre, was held this morning from the residence of her father, Patrick Quigley, 201 Wheeler avenue, at 8:30, and a half hour later from St. Patrick's church, where Rev. Edward P. Curran read a high mass of requiem. There was a large attendance of friends and a very large and beautiful display of floral offerings. The pall bearers were John McGraith, John McGrath, John Garvey and Michael Donahue. The interment was in the family plot at St. Michael's cemetery where Rev. Father Curran read the committal services.

LAUREL GRILL FOR THE LEGISLATURE

Reporters Hand Out Jokes and Knocks at Their Dinner.

Hartford, March 24.—The first dinner of the Laurel Club, the organization of newspaper men who report the doings on Capitol Hill, was given last evening at the Hotel Garde and the hotel still stands. Legislators and prominent men from all over the state were on hand to learn first-hand from the scribes how things really ought to be done. They learned a good deal, but not just what was expected. A great hit was made by the "governor's messenger," a coal black colored man who was rigged out in the gaudiest of burlesque uniforms and whose appearance did much to enliven the evening. Colonel Charles W. Pickett of the "New Haven Leader," the president of the club, was master of ceremonies. The members of the club present at the head table were Colonel Charles W. Pickett, president, Joseph Mullen, vice-president, J. Olin Howe, secretary, Richard Howell, treasurer, Henry C. Sullivan, Alfred F. Howe, A. Rowden King, W. J. G. Myers, Melks I. Russell, Horace B. Clark, John Rodenmeyer, Roy W. Olmstead, Lewis D. Garvey, Daniel D. Bidwell, James L. McGovern, E. C. Booth, J. Edward Elliott, John A. Gleason, Alexander Troup and A. V. Barber. The special guests of the club were Lieutenant-Governor Weeks, President C. S. Melien of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, ex-Lieutenant Governor Everett J. Lake, Representative Abner P. Hayes, Representative William J. Malone, Executive Secretary Charles A. Goodwin and Speaker E. S. Banks. One table, familiarly known as the "liberty table," contained the well-known men: Railroad Commissioner Andrew F. Gates, ex-Senator Allan W.

Paige, J. Henry Roraback, Attorney Edward D. Robbins, Colonel Andrew N. Sheppard, Collector Robert O. Faxon, Bank Commissioner Norris S. Lippitt, John T. Kluze of Bridgeport, Postmaster George L. Allen of Middletown, Edgar L. Hopkins and Elmer E. Havins. Governor Lilley was absent on account of his illness.

State Secretary Rogers was the butt of a resolution concerning unnecessary noises, the particular noise under investigation being that caused by his vests and neckties. Due note of the dinners given by Governor Lilley was taken in the presentation of a resolution to make the governor's grand mandarinum of the dinner and establishing a culinary and gastronomic staff.

Many besides those mentioned found themselves in the limelight at one time or another and the evening was one of entertainment for all. Some of the guests were called on and as there were no reporters present they spoke as freely as they wished.

Y. M. C. A. POOL TOURNAMENT

The first game of the association tournament was played last night to a fine audience of the members. It was between Barnsley and Asael. Asael at last pulled the required 100 out, with Barnsley 92. The game Tuesday evening was between Shaw and Hron and was not so close, as Shaw was not up to his game which went to Hron to the tune of 100 to 31. The drawings on the whole pitted some pretty strong men against each other and there will be good pool practically every night until the match is won. Wednesday night the game will be between Hogg and Cohn, Hogg having a handicap of 5, Cohn playing from scratch. For the Bible study supper Thursday night of this week Keeler's orchestra will furnish the music. There will be only two more suppers this season as it will close April 8th. Warren H. Wilson, a member of the Brooklyn Central Labor Union, will speak at the meeting for men Sunday afternoon at 5:30.

City of Bridgeport To Have New Landing

No Longer Practicable to Land Freight from This City and New Haven at Same Pier.

Bridgeport shippers will be especially interested in the fact that beginning today the New England Navigation Co. steamer of the Bridgeport line have a separate pier in New York city, at new pier 27 East River. The business has grown to such proportions that a consolidation of the New Haven and Bridgeport line business on one pier is no longer practicable, and for reason separate landings are provided.

Incendiary Fire Under Investigation

Capt. Arnold is investigating the fire which was discovered in the hallway of a little house at 696 North Washington avenue at 2 this morning. A can which had contained kerosene oil was found in the hall by the officers, and the walls and floors were soaked with the inflammable liquid. The building is owned by John A. Barri of the Berkshire mills. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, but no clues to the firebug have been found.
